Ohigan

Ohigan Services are held during the Spring and Fall equinoxes, when the days and nights are of equal length, and it is neither too hot nor too cold. The following is a traditional poem about Ohigan, which means "the Other Shore (of enlightenment)",

*The day of Ohigan
What a fine time
To plant seeds
Of enlightenment...*

The word "Ohigan" comes from the Sanskrit word "Paramita" which means the "Other Shore." It is an abbreviation of "To-higan" with "To" meaning "to arrive." Therefore, to-higan means to arrive at the Other Shore. The Other Shore is Enlightenment or Nirvana. In contrast to the Other Shore is this shore or "shigan" in Japanese. Shigan denotes samasara or this world of birth-and-death crossing over the sea of worldly passions arising from illusion.

How can we cross this wide sea, from this shore of ignorance and suffering to arrive at the other shore of Enlightenment and peace, the Other Shore of Nirvana? The Six Paramitas (Perfections) serve as a bridge spanning this wide sea; by practicing Charity, Morality, Patience, Right Effort, Meditation, and Wisdom we can reach the Other Shore.

Thus, Ohigan is a time for us to express our gratitude to Amida Buddha for giving us the Six Paramitas and awakening us to His boundless Compassion and Wisdom.

For all Buddhists, the most pleasant times during the spring and fall are when services are held to "move to the Other Shore" (to-higan). It is a time when we are encouraged to strive even more energetically along the Buddhist path and strive to become enlightened.

Message from Rev. Bruce Nakamura

ASK REV. BRUCE—A Brief Review of Japanese Buddhist Traditions.

The 2013 Bon season under the auspices of the Kauai Buddhist Council has completed another successful year. This annual circuit extended from June's first weekend through August's first weekend. A sincere and heart-felt Mahalo to all our Buddhist communities, volunteers and friends who opened their hearts, hands and sanghas to the larger community for these important religious events that foster gratitude and peace of the human spirit.

There were two educational events connected to the 2013 Bon season. The first event included the presence of volunteer representatives from the Kauai Museum. They sought the public's help in identifying several group photos of community leaderships imprisoned at the Santa Fe, New Mexico Camps during World War II. Discovering connections to our personal and communal psyche stirred memories of these proud, yet stoic gentlemen once branded as enemies of the United States of America. Resurrecting family and community ties brought about a new understanding and appreciation of our shared American-Asian history, despite the very painful war years.

Our sincerest mahalo to the Kauai Museum and its volunteers. A special arigato goes out to Mr. Roy Miyake who has been at the forefront of this endeavor to educate our community and bring light and renewed appreciation of our shared past by way of these group photos.

The second educational event was a collection of large vignettes posters, based on the book An Illustrated Guide to JAPANESE BUDDHIST TEMPLES IN HAWAII by Emeritus' Drs. George J. Tanabe and Willa Jane Tanabe, University of Hawai'i Press, 2013. The posters depicted the diverse Japanese Buddhist communities that settled and thrived in the islands of Hawaii. We thank the Hawai'i Buddhist Council for a grant supporting the research and publication of the book. Please see your minister to order this Japanese Buddhist educational resource for your personal family library.

GROUNDS & OUTER TEMPLE ITEMS

Most temples have well-maintained landscaping adorned with simple Japanese gardens of stone/concrete lanterns, statues, pagodas and commemorative markers. Many have natural stone water basins for hand-washing before entering the temple.

A temple bell (kansho) hanging from the eaves of the veranda is a common temple feature. A large bell (bonsho) is sometimes suspended in a separate bell tower. Striking with a mallet or a horizontally suspended log signals the beginning of services. The bells are inscribed with the date of production and donors' names.

OUTER SANCTUARY

The outer sanctuary (gejin) is the space for the congregation (sangha). Originally a space in which attendees sat on floor cushions (zabuton), it became a rectangular space filled with chairs or pews. The gejin represents the mundane world, typically posted with temple activity information and materials used during services. An offertory box (osaisen-bako) fronts the gejin as well as lecterns, organs or pianos that accompany the hymn-gathas as part of the service proper.

The most significant act performed by worshippers is the offering of incense (oshoko). Two kinds are used: powdered (ko) and stick (senko). The idea that incense purifies, rubbed on the priest's robes ritually, conveys the prayers of the world held up to the Buddha(s). Early Buddhist texts also describe incense as spiritual sustenance for the departed.

A large incenser (DaiKoro) is predominantly at the center fronting the outer sanctuary. This larger incenser has its lid cover removed for easier and regular access. Its décor may consist of the sect's crest, flowers, a lion on the lid or a dragon-shaped handle on either side. One dragon has its mouth open (ah) and the other has its mouth closed (un). Ah is the first sound of Japanese and Sanskrit syllabary, and Un is the last. These beginning and ending sounds express the human limits of language which Buddha-wisdom and compassion embraces and transcends as one in timeless reality.

PEACE DAY

In 2007, through the efforts of the Hawaii Federation of Jr. Young Buddhist Associations and other dedicated supporters, Hawaii became the first state to recognize Peace Day. Each year the International Day of Peace is observed around the world on September 21st. The United Nations General Assembly has declared this as a day devoted to strengthening the ideals of peace, both within and among all nations and peoples.

WELCOME TO OUR NEW PBA HEAD OF SCHOOL, MR. ROBERT CODY!

On the evening of August 6, 2013, Pacific Buddhist Academy's Campus was host to a larger than expected crowd of new and returning students and parents, faculty and staff, supporters, friends and trustees of the school and the newest addition to our Hongwanji Ohana, the new Head of School for PBA, Mr. Robert Cody and his Family. At 5pm, the sounding of the bell welcomed everyone to the Installation Ceremony for the new Head of School.

The special ceremony in the Hawaii Betsuin Hondo included traditional elements of liturgy and messages by Bishop Eric Matsumoto, PBA Trustees Chair Joel Determan and new Head of School Rob Cody. During the ceremony, special gifts from Hawaii Kyodan, students, the Board of Trustees, teachers, and parents were presented.

To quote from the PBA Website,

"I'm deeply honored to present this trophy to Mr. Cody as a symbol of teamwork and effort," said senior Kate Sciabassi, who presented the new principal with a green dragon trophy that was once used for Sports Day festivities.

When school finally opened on August 7, PBA welcomed seventy-three students - the largest population in its young history. The increase in students sent a buzz throughout the campus.

"It's a lot bigger," junior Candis Imanaka said excitedly. "It's good that PBA expanded a lot - it gives me an opportunity to meet new people and to practice my social skills."

"It's good to meet Robert Cody, too, because he seems like a good guy and he will be a great principal at PBA."

HQ BOOKSTORE UPDATE In response to several requests, the HQ Bookstore has brought in some items that you may purchase. The following items are available:

"Embraced by the Buddha ~ from Christian to Buddhist~" By Toshiko Kawamura ($2.50)

The Author of this book, Mrs. Toshiko Kawamura, who passed away in Jan. 2013 in Yamaguchi, Japan, at age 92, grew up in a Christian family. She graduated from a university in Tokyo and soon after her marriage, she had to move from Tokyo to her husband's hometown of Hagi in Yamaguchi during the war to escape the bombings in Tokyo. This book is her story of how she turned from Christian to Buddhist. In it she praises her mother-in-law who devotedly took refuge in the teachings of Amida-Buddha.

This book (English Version) was first printed by the Nembutsu Press Los Angeles. Later, it was reprinted by Rev. Bert Sumikawa for the Kapolei Buddhist Sangha and now is in its third printing by Honpa Hongwanji Mission of Hawaii Headquarters.

Boy Scout Troop 83

On August 3, Thomas Simpkins of Boy Scout Troop 83 completed his Eagle Scout Project. The work at our social hall included installation of three new interior EXIT fixtures and a wall-mounted exterior light fixture at the top of the back steps. Thomas was helped by fellow scouts Kai Adachi, Matthew Simpkins, Kamden Nii, and Kanoa Nii. The boys were supervised and supported by adults John Iwamoto, Eric Kato, Rob Nii, Assistant Scoutmaster Randy Ikeda, and Scoutmaster Gilbert Cabot.

We are very fortunate that the scouts and adults of Troop 83 are always willing to lend their time and effort to help LHM and our Kaua'i community in many ways. LHM thanks Thomas and others for completing this latest project. We wish Thomas success in attaining his Eagle rank and his future endeavors.

Senior Buddhist Association

Will meet on the 3rd Tuesday of every month, beginning September 17, 2013. The meetings will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the LHM Conference Room.

Hoshakai

Additional ladies are needed for the Friday Hoshakai group. Please contact Ted Inouye at 245-3027.

SEPTEMBER IS FOODLAND GIVE ALOHA MONTH

The Foodland Give Aloha Program honors its founder, Maurice J. Sullivan, and his generosity in giving back to the community. Foodland and the Western Union Foundation will match donations up to a total of $350,000 for all participating non-profit organizations.

Once again, Hawaii Kyodan will participate in the Foodland Give Aloha Program as a means to grow the Ministerial Training Fund. We humbly ask that you make a donation to the Ministerial Training Fund, which we hope to grow and be able to support local aspirants without drawing from our operating budget.

Here's how you can participate:

1. Between Sep 1 and 30, go to any Foodland or Sack 'n Save store with your Maika'i Card; only donations made with a Maika'i Card will be matched. If you don't have a Maika'i Card, you can sign up right there---it's free.
2. Tell the cashier you would like to make a Give Aloha donation.
3. Give the cashier our Organization Code 78644 or they can look up Honpa Hongwanji.
4. Let the cashier know the amount of your donation. You can make a donation of any amount but only donations up to $249 per person will be eligible for matching. (You can make donations to multiple organizations and they all will be eligible for the matching up to the $249 limit. The Pacific Buddhist Academy (78393) and Hongwanji Mission School (77603) are also participating, as well as some temples.)

Once the transaction is complete you will be given a receipt for your tax purposes. If you would like to have your donation acknowledged by Hawaii Kyodan, please bring or send your receipt to the Kyodan office and we will send you an acknowledgement letter.

LHM GOLF CLUB NEWS

If anyone is interested in playing at Princeville Makai Golf Course on September 14, 2013 please contact Ray Morikawa, tournament chairman, at 652-3185 or mori-kawar010@hawaii.rr.com.

Car-pooling will be available.

Anyone, LHM member or not, is welcome to play. LHMGC plays together four times annually. If you're interested in joining the LHMGC, please contact Ray.

Eden at Home

Another Eden at Home workshop will be presented by Project Dana on Saturday, September 28, 2013 from 8:30 am until 5:00 pm. The workshop will be held in the Piikoi Building, Conference Rooms A & B. The cost is $10. Lunch will be provided.

The Eden at Home workshop focuses on changing perceptions of elders at home and in the community. It will help us to broaden awareness and provide tools on improving quality of life for elderly living at home and their care partners by eliminating the three plagues of loneliness, helplessness and boredom.

Please register by calling Karen Hiranaka at 652-5321. Please send the registration fee of $10, payable to Project Dana, to Lihue Hongwanji Mission, P.O. Box 1248, Lihue, HI 96766. The deadline for registration is September 14. We hope you are able to attend.

Board of Directors Meeting Highlights

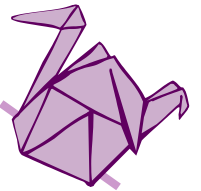

August 13, 2013

1. LHM's delegates to the State Lay Convention on September 7 & 8 at Aiea Hongwanji are Carol Valentine, Lynne Matsumura, and Wayne Fujioka.
2. LHM has received a grant of $5,000.00 from the Florence Iwamoto Kaua'i Fund through the Hawai'i Community Foundation.

Dharma School News

Car Wash

The Dharma School students, teachers and supporters had a wonderful and very productive car wash on July 28. We were busy washing and drying cars from 9:15 until 2:00. Thank you to Gerald Miller & Avis Hirahara for providing us with a table and canopy plus their expertise in running a car wash. Thank you to Gerald Miller & Wayne Fujioka for providing water & juice for all. Thank you too to Greg & Joann Naganuma for providing everyone with pizza for lunch.

Hug Me Ministries Jr. YBA By Shawna Ogata

Hug Me Ministries is an event in which people can contribute by donating soft teddy bears and stuffed animals (approximately 12 inches in size) to residents in Regency at Puakea Assisted Living Community and to long term hospital patients. We need your help in obtaining these stuffed animals.

How? You can simply go to any Hongwanji temple location and drop off a stuffed animal in a container that will be supplied. The stuffed animals will be collected during the months of August and September.

The Jr. YBA will be visiting residents in Regency at Puakea and distributing stuffed animals during the month of October as our service project for Hawaii Buddhist Youth Month. Remaining stuffed animals will be given to Rev. Nakamura who will distribute them during later care home visits.

For more information, contact:
Jani Okura
808-346-9126
Your help will be greatly appreciated. Thank you very much for your donations.

Thank you from Dharma School

Thank you to everyone for supporting the Dharma School students in their fund raising efforts. Because of our sales, the car wash and many generous donations, we have achieved our goal and will be able to provide for transportation and lodging for our students to attend the Sadako Peace Memorial Dedication on September 21st on Oahu. The students will be attending, along with parents and teachers for this once in a lifetime opportunity.

A MESSAGE OF APPRECIATION

On behalf of Lihue Hongwanji Mission, I am pleased to report that we had another very successful bon dance event. We were blessed with beautiful weather and a large crowd that participated in our bon dance festivities and patronized our concessions.

I would like to extend our heartfelt gratitude to Reverend Bruce Nakamura, the bon dance committee, our temple members, non members, our affiliate organizations, the drummers, singers and many others for their participation, sacrifices, generosity, donations and support to help make our bon dance event possible. Once again you demonstrated our strength, when we unite for a common cause.

With warmest aloha and mahalo,

Ted Inouye.
