Message from Rev. Bruce Nakamura

TIME IS OUR DHARMA COMPANION

As the 2013 year quickly winds down, let us reflect upon this year's Hongwanji Slogan: "Path of Entrusting: Live the Teachings." As I reflected upon the writings and quotes cited in our 2013 Hongwanji calendar, I interpreted the Rev. Jitsugen Kakehashi's quote from HEARING THE BUDDHA'S CALL, translated by Dr. Rev. Toshikazu Arai in the following way:

...For some, difficulties and setbacks can mean only complaints and regrets, but there are those whose life difficulties enable a deeper and richer truth and reality that take them beyond ordinary living. Such a difference may be understood as for those who are born into the light and life of Amida's wisdom, they live freely and gratefully amid life difficulties..."

This means that the person of the Nembutsu becomes aware of his ego-centered life that binds him to this world—greed, anger and ignorance. But having surrendered that imperfect self to Amida Buddha's unconditional gift—the heart of true-entrusting—shinjin—he lives in the absolute assurance of supreme enlightenment in the light-life to come. With a heart of gratitude embraced by an unconditional love and compassion, he is able to retrain his ego to live in a world of greed, anger and ignorance, while tempering such frailties in the light of the Buddha's great compassion.

For the 2014 Slogan: "Path of Entrusting: Share Peace" Hongwanji calendar the following reflection is shared from Shinran Shonin's writings:

"...signs of saying the Nembutsu as gratitude is Amida Buddha's assurance for birth is seen in our change-of-heart; a foolish heart now becomes truly foolish, deeply held in the warmth and joy of the Buddha's love and the assembly of the faithful..."

Another of Shinran's quotes is interpreted in the following way:

"Those realizing that their birth in the Pure Land to be completely settled and mindful of Amida Buddha's kindness say the Nembutsu as gratitude. Holding the Nembutsu as gratitude is too, the Buddha's Wish: 'May there be peace in the world and the Buddha's Teaching spread!'

As recipients of the Buddha's kindness, we turn our imperfect and foolish hearts about and enter the Buddha's ocean of great compassion. Saying the Nembutsu of gratitude, set the living Dharma into daily action inwardly and with others, the Buddha's great vow and wish, 'may there be peace in the world and the Buddha's Teaching spread' become too, our wish and vow. Let us together greet the new year sharing peace with all we encounter, Namo Amida Butsu.

"I will write peace on your wings and you will fly all over the world."

Sadako Sasaki

New Year's Greeting From Monshu Koshin Ohtani

Immeasurable Light and Life.

At the beginning of the year, I would like to send you my greetings from Hongwanji in Kyoto. Upon succeeding the position as Monshu, thirty-six years and nine months have passed. I have come to empathize with Chinese master, Shan-tao, as he writes in Hymns of Birth in the Pure Land, "Caught up in everyday life, the days and nights go left unnoticed, unable to become emancipated and escape the sea of suffering." I shall vow to work diligently until my term comes to an end this June.

For many of us, although the passing of time seems to speed up with age, in recent years, changes within society have sped up, making things all the more unsettling. Because these rapid transitions are largely the result of developments in scientific technology and economic growth, they sometimes produce discrepancies in individual lifestyles and societal framework. The gap among socio-economic concerns including business corporations and people's lifestyles are widening that both domestic and international efforts have not been successful in dealing with such issues. As a result, there is a sense that neither reflecting on the past nor thinking ahead into the future matters, so long as we are content with the present. However, this mentality will result in repeating past mistakes or passing burdens on to future generations.

Is it not that the role of Buddhism is to provide us who live in this constantly changing world, with an unfaltering spiritual foundation to live the life which we have received to the fullest? In Jodo Shinshu Buddhism, that foundation is the Primal Vow of Amida Tathagata, namely Namo Amida Butsu. Being unconditionally embraced by Amida Tathagata, we are enabled to accept our own inconvenient past and at this very moment, be joyous of this life we have received.

May we all continue to live every day of this year in appreciation of the Nembutsu.

2014 Bishop's New Year's Message

Namo Amida Butsu and Happy New Year!

As we begin the New Year, let me express my most sincere gratitude to all Ministers and their Families, Members and Supporters of the Honpa Hongwanji Mission of Hawaii for your commitment and effort in the past year. Without your dedication and willingness, Hawaii Kyodan would not have been able to accomplish all that it did in 2013. Now, as a New Year begins, please accept my best wishes and hope that the New Year will be most meaningful and especially peaceful for you. Needless to say as the Jodo Shin Buddhist Sangha, we entrust in Amida Buddha and go to the Dharma/Teachings for guidance. The Great Aspiration of the Buddha of Immeasurable Life and Infinite Light/Amida Buddha is the peace and happiness of all existence. If a person experiences this Great Wisdom and Unconditional Compassion of Amida Buddha that person also embraces the Buddha's Aspiration. Hence, Shinran Shonin was able to say, "Those who feel that their own birth (in the Pure Land of Enlightenment) is completely settled should, mindful of the Buddha's benevolence, hold the nembutsu in their hearts and say it to respond in gratitude to that benevolence, with the wish, "May there be peace in the world, and may the Buddha's Teaching spread!"

In this way, the life of a Shin Buddhist is one of responding in gratitude to Amida Buddha's Compassion by reciting the Nembutsu in awareness, joy and gratitude and incorporating into one's life the wish that the Teaching spreads far and wide and the aspiration for world peace. The reality of interdependence affirms that what we each do (or do not do) will make a difference. However, limited and imperfect my responding efforts are it is important that we try to be that difference. According to the Dharma, a further emphasis would be the importance of how we strive towards our goal. It is clear that the Buddhist emphasis would be on collaboration, without force or violence and without fear. This is the Wisdom of the Buddhas.

Truly, let us take to heart our 2014 Theme and Slogan, "Path of Entrusting: Share Peace." As the Compassion of Amida Buddha shows peace must be for all people, all life, all existence. I call out to our members and supporters to please help us, the Honpa Hongwanji Mission of Hawaii, keep alive the aspiration for world peace by continuing to speak of it and also be engaged in local and world events which nurture peace in individuals and society. In our 125th Anniversary year in Hawaii, may we encourage each other to listen, to study and learn, and experience Amida Buddha and the Dharma so we can be guided and inspired by it. I humbly ask for your support of Honpa Hongwanji Mission of Hawaii and its Mission Statement "To share the living Teachings of Jodo Shinshu Buddhism so that all beings may enjoy lives of harmony, peace and gratitude. I can say with certainty that, in our own way, are making a difference and today more than ever, as we network with other organizations in the community it does make a big difference. Please let us come together and let us work together! Let us entrust and share peace.

Once again, a Happy New Year and Namo Amida Butsu/Entrusting in the Buddha of Immeasurable Life and Infinite Light.

In gassho,

Eric Matsumoto, Bishop

HONPA HONGWANJI MISSION OF HAWAII PRESIDENT'S NEW YEAR'S MESSAGE

Aloha and best wishes for a happy and peaceful New Year! 2013 was a year where we made great progress in reaching out into the community through programs and addressing community issues. Two significant examples are the Sadako Sasaki crane exhibit at the World War II Valor in the Pacific National Museum and marriage equality law.

The Japanese Cultural Center, the Hiroshima Sister City Committee, and HHMH partnered with the National Parks Service and Pacific Historic Parks in raising over $70,000 for the construction of the display. The Sasaki family joined us in dedicating the exhibit on Peace Day, Sept. 21, 2013. A significant portion of the contributions were made by HHMH and its affiliates, such as individual temples, BWA, Dharma Schools, and individual members. Thank you very much for your support for this project. We plan to continue our leadership role in peace education.

2013 was a year of divisive issues for our communities. Neighbor islands were polarized with the issue of GMOs (genetically modified organisms) and pesticides while our entire state struggled with the issue of marriage equality. We understand and respect that some may have different perspectives, however, our support of the issue is based on our Buddhist values. As we get involved with the community and social issues, there will be other instances where our individual preferences may differ from that of the Honpa Hongwanji. In order to appropriately navigate through those issues, it is critical for us to have strong leaders at all levels of our organization.

I'm hearing more instances where temples, especially smaller ones, are unable to find willing and able members to step up to the plate to hold leadership roles. Several years ago, we believed the problem of getting the younger members to hold leadership positions was that the seniors were unwilling to let go. Today, after years of dedicated service and sacrifice, many have step aside, only to find out that the younger members are unwilling to step up to the plate.

We all understand that our organization cannot function without volunteers. We should also understand that an organization of volunteers without dedicated leaders are not sustainable. You have all heard of the story "Whose Job Is It?". It is a story about four people named Everybody, Somebody, Anybody, and Nobody. I am asking all individuals, boomer age and younger, to take a more active role in your temple leadership. Do not depend on the same people all the time. Everybody can reasonable claim "I am too busy". So in the end, Nobody will do what Anybody could have done. What do you think will happen to your temple?

In the past I have said that sometimes, in order for an organization to grow, it must first contract. The symptoms we are experiencing, decreasing membership, financial difficulties, shortage of ministers and shortage of lay leaders should make us consider the possibilities of contracting (consolidating temples) now, until we achieve a stable and sustainable state.

Each temple has a choice. Find dedicated and effective leaders or consider consolidation. Either way, we need everyone's support. Without your help, we will be unable to grow for our future generations

We are truly grateful for the many hands that help us at all levels of our organization. Let us show our gratitude and lessen their burden by offering our help. I would like to extend my heartfelt gratitude for your patience, understanding, cooperation and support. Your participation is crucial in our leadership role for the international propagation of Jodo Shinshu.

In Gassho,
Alton H Miyamoto, President
Hawaii Kyodan

HHMH 2014 SLOGAN AND THEME "PATH OF ENTRUSTING: SHARE PEACE"

This year Theme is: Path of Entrusting: Share Peace! And as we enter the one hundred twenty fifth year of the Hawaii Kyodan it is very appropriate that our aspiration is to share peace. You will notice that words were chosen carefully avoiding using phrases like "Promote Peace" and "Spread Peace." This is because in Buddhism peace begins with the individual finding peace within and then sharing that peace with others. Please keep in mind that everyone is responsible for his or her own spiritual path and personal actions. But at the same time if the great Wisdom and Compassion of Amida Buddha have transformed one's heart and mind, then one will aspire to share peace in many different ways, great and small. So let us, according to our circumstances and abilities share peace by our actions and words starting with our families and communities.

"Signs of long years of saying the Nembutsu and aspiring for birth (in the Pure Land) can be seen in the change in the heart that had been bad and in the deep warmth for friends and fellow-practicers;" ... Shinran Shonin, page 551, Collected Works of Shinran.

In 2011, Hongwanji Ministers and members of the PBA Ohana walked 5.7 miles and raised over $20,000 for the Capital Campaign. The goal for this year is to raise $25,000 and the ministers took the lead to collect pledges.
